Art Unit: 2613

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Funami et al. (US Patent No: 7,092,638 B2).

Regarding claim 1, Funami teaches an optical channel power equalizer for equalizing per-channel power levels (col. 2, lines 43-47) of a multi-channel optical signal in which a plurality of channels are multiplexed ( $\lambda_1, \lambda_2, \lambda_3, \lambda_4$  and 4, fig. 1) and amplified (6, fig. 1), the optical channel power equalizer comprising: an optical spectrum measurement unit that extracts a portion of the amplified optical signal and measures the per-channel power levels of the extracted optical signal (col. 4, lines 60-62 and AMP input power monitor, fig. 1); a controller (3, fig. 1) that compares the measured power levels with a predetermined reference value and determines to output the degrees of attenuation per channel based on differences between the measured per-channel power levels and the reference value (col. 6, lines 10-38, col. 7, lines 1-35); and per-channel optical attenuation unit (5, fig. 1) that attenuates the per-channel power levels of a plurality of input optical signals based on the degrees of attenuation and outputs the attenuated optical signals as the plurality of channels (col. 4, lines 44-59).

Regarding claim 7, Funami teaches the pre-channel optical attenuation unit comprises a plurality of optical attenuators (VOAs, fig. 1) that attenuate the power levels of each channel of the input optical signals based on the per-channel attenuation degrees input from the controller (col. 5, lines 45-60, col. 7, lines 15-20).

3. Claims 2-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to M. R. Sedighian whose telephone number is (571) 272-3034. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (from 9 AM to 5 PM).
